WEATHER NARRATIVES:

‘Pam’s story’

RELATIONAL STORY WORK FOR A RESILIENT WORLD

Vesper Hill CIC is a 'storytelling consultancy'

We use research-based performances and facilitated dialogue/workshops to 'tell a better story about climate resilience'

Partners include

YHCC, UKCR,

JBA Consulting

WEATHER NARRATIVES WORKSHOP

1. YHCC exploring ways to engage diverse audiences with the need to adapt to current and future climate change.
2. Consulted climate modellers over 'mid-range' future climate change scenario; developed a hypothetical weather narrative for the Yorkshire region in 2048.
3. Worked with Vesper Hill to develop first-person narratives of lived experience.
4. Two parallel narratives, placing the same weather scenario in different 'multiversal' situations (note: for the purposes of this exercise, mitigation is not an issue)
5. Presented as audio recordings, performed by actor Kat Rose-Martin.
6. World premiere in workshop setting: today! (we welcome your feedback)

WHAT WE'RE GOING TO DO:

1. Listen: Pam's Story #1 (how it will be)
2. Reflection/response in breakout rooms
3. Listen: Pam's Story #2 (how it could be)
4. Reflection/response in breakout rooms
5. Plenary feedback

Please note:

Headphones recommended

Have a notepad to hand

We'll take a minute for individual reflection/note-taking after each recording

Some of the content is emotionally charged; please exercise self care.
